- Economic decline: The global economy is slowing down and many countries are facing recession or depression. This is due to a number of factors, including the COVID-19 pandemic, the war in Ukraine, and the rising cost of living.
- Inequality: The gap between the rich and the poor is growing wider. This is due to a number of factors, including globalization, automation, and tax cuts for the wealthy.
- Social unrest: Social unrest is on the rise around the world. This is due to a number of factors, including economic inequality, political corruption, and social injustice.
- Political instability: Political instability is also on the rise. This is due to a number of factors, including the rise of populism, the decline of democracy, and the increasing use of violence.
- Climate change: Climate change is one of the most serious challenges that we face. It is caused by human activities, such as burning fossil fuels, and it is having a devastating impact on the planet.

Despite the challenges, there are also opportunities for prosperity in the 21st century. These opportunities include:

- The green economy: The green economy is a new economic model that is based on sustainability. It is creating new jobs and businesses, and it is helping to reduce pollution and climate change.
- The digital economy: The digital economy is a new economic model that is based on the internet. It is creating new jobs and businesses, and it is helping to reduce costs and increase efficiency.

- The sharing economy: The sharing economy is a new economic model that is based on sharing goods and services. It is creating new jobs and businesses, and it is helping to reduce waste and save money.
- The circular economy: The circular economy is a new economic model that is based on recycling and reuse. It is creating new jobs and businesses, and it is helping to reduce waste and conserve resources.

Dr. Johnson's roadmap for prosperity in the age of decline includes the following steps:

1. Invest in education and skills. Education is the key to success in the 21st century. It is essential for getting a good job, earning a good income, and achieving your goals.
2. Save for the future. Saving for the future is important for financial security. It can help you to weather economic downturns, pay for unexpected expenses, and retire comfortably.
3. Invest in sustainable businesses. Sustainable businesses are good for the planet and they can also be good for your wallet. They are creating new jobs and businesses, and they are helping to reduce pollution and climate change.
4. Get involved in your community. Getting involved in your community can help you to make a difference in the world. It can also help you to meet new people, learn new skills, and build relationships.
5. Be optimistic. The future is not set in stone. We can create a better future for ourselves and our children. Be optimistic about the future and work towards making it a reality.

Prosperity in the age of decline is possible. By investing in education and skills, saving for the future, investing in sustainable businesses, getting involved in our communities, and being optimistic about the future, we can create a better future for ourselves and our children.
