Maxwell's 17 Laws are based on decades of research and experience working with teams in a wide range of industries. He has identified the key principles that make teams successful, and he shares them in this book with clarity and precision.

The 17 Laws

The 17 Indisputable Laws of Teamwork are:

1. The Law of Sacrifice: Teams that are willing to sacrifice for each other achieve more than teams that are not.
2. The Law of Unity: Teams that are united by a common goal are more powerful than teams that are divided.
3. The Law of Communication: Teams that communicate effectively are more successful than teams that do not.
4. The Law of Trust: Teams that trust each other are more likely to take risks and achieve great things.
5. The Law of Respect: Teams that respect each other's differences are more productive and innovative.
6. The Law of Synergy: Teams that capitalize on the strengths of each member achieve more than the sum of their individual parts.
7. The Law of Accountability: Teams that hold each other accountable for their performance are more likely to succeed.
8. The Law of Commitment: Teams that are committed to their goals are more likely to achieve them.
9. The Law of Role Clarity: Teams that have clear roles and responsibilities are more effective.
10. The Law of Conflict: Teams that manage conflict effectively are more likely to be successful.
11. The Law of Celebration: Teams that celebrate their successes are more likely to repeat them.
12. The Law of Growth: Teams that are committed to growth and development are more likely to be successful in the long run.

13. The Law of Legacy: Teams that leave a legacy of success are more likely to be remembered and admired.
14. The Law of Balance: Teams that achieve a balance between work and personal life are more likely to be successful.
15. The Law of Diversity: Teams that are diverse in terms of race, gender, age, and experience are more likely to be successful.
16. The Law of Technology: Teams that use technology effectively are more likely to be successful.
